September 16, 2010 - Blue Bird Micro Bird Propane Bus Webinar Blue Bird Micro Bird has teamed with ROUSH Performance to offer Blue Bird Micro Bird Propane Activity Buses and Propane Multi-Function School Activity Buses providing organizations with an unrivaled combination of safety, flexibility of options, and affordability. Coupled with its small size, these three characteristics make Blue Bird buses ideal for any organization transporting children or adults, including the following applications:

- Private Schools (who do not transport students from home to school)
- School Clubs/Organizations (i.e. sports teams, bands, or clubs)
- Boy Scouts/Girl Scouts
- YMCAs
- Youth Centers
- Community Centers
- National Parks
- Work Organizations/Job Sites Click here <http://thirdthursday.net/register%209.16.2010.htm> to register for the webinar, which will feature an online presentation and a simultaneous conference call.

EPAct Alternative Fuel Infrastructure Workshops

Throughout 2010—San Diego, Puget Sound, Chicago, Massachusetts, San Francisco
The Energy Policy Act of 1992 (EPAct 1992) established several transportation-related regulatory programs including the requirement of certain governmental and fuel provider fleets to acquire alternative fuel vehicles or reduce petroleum use. These one-day EPAct workshops present EPAct regulations and discuss the challenges and opportunities for implementation. Participants from all sectors are welcome including from government agencies, fuel providers, nonprofits, universities, airports, the military, school districts, and private companies.
